History:

Lumberjack Days Celebrations have been, and still are, a part of the history of Stillwater and of the area. Stillwater's annual community festival began as a salute to our city's heritage in 1934. More than 80 years later, Lumberjack Days has become as much a part of Stillwater's past as the tall pines and pioneers that started it all. And, each year a new chapter is added. It must be understood that we can never return to the past, but we can be mindful of all that was proven to be good and carefully blend it with the new.

- derived from Diane Thompson, former Lumberjack Days organizer and Stillwater resident

Mission:

Our mission is to provide an engaging and educational event that welcomes families and community members to the birthplace of Minnesota to enjoy and learn about the cultural heritage, historical charm and local talent of our beloved river town. We support local arts and are proud to bring free music to the community!

Our event simply would not happen without the generous donation of our Sponsors. Thank you for making Lumberjack Days a success!
